

Open Awards Qualification Unit

This unit forms part of a regulated qualification.

1 Unit Details

Unit Title:	Human Health and Disease
Unit Reference Number:	D/650/3446
Level:	Entry Level Two
Credit Value:	3
Minimum GLH:	30

2 Learning Outcomes and Criteria

Learning Outcome (The Learner will):	Assessment Criterion (The Learner can):
1. Know about disease and infection in humans	1.1 Give examples of infectious diseases
	1.2 State ways that infectious diseases may be passed from one human to another
	1.3 State some of the effects of infectious diseases in the human body
	1.4 Give examples of common viruses that affect humans
	1.5 State how vaccinations work in the human body
	1.6 State how vaccinations can prevent the spread of infectious diseases in humans
2. Know about medical drugs used in human health	2.1 Explain why medical drugs are used in human health and disease
	2.2 Identify the benefits and risks of using medical drugs in human health and disease
	2.3 Describe what antibiotics are and state how they are used in human health and disease
3. Know the part body systems play in human health and disease	3.1 Name three automated control systems in the human body
	3.2 Give examples of common reflex actions in humans

4. Know the role of hormones in the human body	4.1 Identify a range of human hormones, including hormones in the human reproductive cycle
	4.2 State how hormones can be used to control human fertility
	4.3 Give one benefit and one drawback of using hormones to control human fertility